May is Cystic Fibrosis Month

On May 29, 2013 at 11a.m. in the First Floor Lobby of Met Campus, Windsor Regional Hospital Paediatric Services will host a Cystic Fibrosis (CF) Awareness Day to provide education and knowledge on how the disease affects one in every 3600 children born in Canada. Parents of children affected will speak about their day-to-day experience with CF along with staff who will explain their role in caring for patients. There is no known cure for CF; however, research inspires hope. CF affects children in varying degrees of severity. For many kids, life consists of a daily routine of physical and inhalation therapy in order to keep lungs free of congestion. The daily routine also includes a high-calorie diet and regimen of pancreatic enzymes and vitamin supplements to ensure adequate nutrition is consistent. The Paediatric Cystic Fibrosis Clinic at the Met Campus operates one Saturday per month where approximately 20 patients attend the clinic on a rotation schedule over a three month span. Dr. Leena Morgan leads the CF Clinic assisted by a Social Worker, Dietician, Respiratory Therapist, Physiotherapist and Child Life Specialist.
