

Scrubs Thursdays Continue Through the Summer

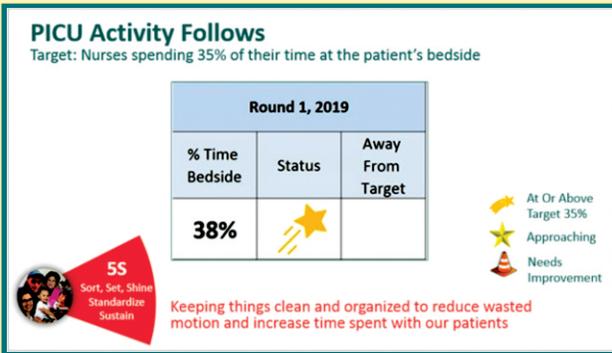

Experiential support opportunities by WRH clinical leaders with frontline staff have generated valuable experiences since Scrubs Thursdays started in February.

Nurses were eager to share and demonstrate the great work they do and all had the ability to identify current challenges. Managers appreciated seeing work flow on other standard units and identify potential solutions to bring back to their own units. Bryan Giles, Clinical Practice Manager of the Emergency Department at the Met Campus stated “It has been very helpful to engage staff on the other units.” Kristen Mailloux, Operations Manager was especially interested in the Care Rounds and now is adopting this process for the Renal program.

Scrubs Thursdays continues through the summer.

Activity Follows and What We've Found

Activity Follows in the Emergency Department wrap up this week and conclude this round for the Wave 2 Standard Units of Mental Health, Critical Care, and Emergency.

Information provided to unit managers and their staff, help improve and sustain workflow so that nurses can maximize their time spent with their patients. Look for your results on the Performance boards located on your units.

Thank you to all frontline staff who participated!

Metric of the Week: Mobility as a Barrier to Discharge

Number of medical patients over their EDD (Estimated Date of Discharge) greater than 5 days, where mobility is a barrier to discharge.

Captured at the 1030 Patient Flow Huddle

CORPORATE

19

OUELLETTE

10

MET

9

How can you help?

- Assess and assign mobility level on admission and daily
- Help patients achieve their daily mobility goals
- Work as a team
- Explain and encourage patients and involve families